

Equipment Breakdown

Most people wouldn't dream of running a business without insurance. Yet many leave their businesses vulnerable to a major risk that's also common and costly – equipment failure.

A breakdown of equipment or machines can involve more than the cost of repairing or replacing damaged property. This kind of accident can also entail a substantial loss of income if it forces a business to cut back its operations or close for repairs. And it can add up to thousands of dollars in losses. But with Travelers, you can limit your worries about the cost of an equipment failure. We have built this coverage right into our Master PacSM policy as a coverage extension. If you are a tenant, you may think you don't need this coverage. But, what if you had to shut down your business due to a mechanical failure of your landlord's equipment?

Coverages

The Equipment Breakdown Coverage Extension protects you from property damage due to equipment failure or electrical failure as well as any resulting loss of income and extra expenses (unless business income and extra expense is not covered). And while Equipment Breakdown is typically referred to as "boiler" coverage, it's much more than that. This is especially true for those who do not even have a boiler.

Coverage for a wide range of equipment

The Equipment Breakdown Coverage Extension insures a wide variety of equipment types, including:

- Air-conditioning systems
- Water heaters
- Refrigeration equipment
- Fiber optic cable
- Electrical distribution equipment
- Hoists and cranes
- Motors, fans and pumps
- Boilers and pressure vessels
- Compressors

Equipment breakdown loss examples

The Equipment Breakdown Coverage Extension provides extensive, yet inexpensive, protection for a wide variety of common problems. Some typical losses that could occur:

- A 20-ton A/C system froze due to failure of controls. Since it was summer, a rental unit had to be brought in until the main unit was returned to service. Direct loss = $10,240. Extra expense = $5,250.
- A power surge from a brown out damages refrigeration equipment causing the business to shut down. Direct loss = $9,675. Business income loss = $22,345.

Coverage for direct damage is limited to $100,000 for the following types of equipment (limit can be increased):

The Equipment Breakdown Coverage Extension insures a wide variety of equipment types, including:

- Diagnostic equipment
- Power-generating equipment
- Production equipment

Other coverages

Other valuable coverages included within the Equipment Breakdown Coverage Extension:

- Expediting expenses are covered up to $25,000.
- Pollutant cleanup costs are covered up to $25,000.
- Interruption of water, communication, or power supply services is covered (when business income and extra expense is covered).

- A water heater overheated and ruptured due to excessive pressure. The building also suffered water damage. Direct loss = $12,840.
- A stamping machine was damaged due to metal fatigue. It was necessary to outsource this part of the manufacturing process to a competitor in order to complete the project on time. Direct loss = $19,750. Extra expense = $35,190.
- A restaurant pressure cooker cracked due to sudden loss of pressure. Direct loss = $8,925.
